MURPHREE ADDRESSES BILOXI VOTERS IN INTEREST CANDIDACY

Pledges to Aid Move For Memphis-Coast Highway Hard-Surfacing—Asks To Be Repaid by Election For Assisting Coast Interests

Lieutenant-Governor Dennis Murphree, candidate for governor, addressed a large audience at Biloxi Tuesday night, presenting a record of his twenty-four year service in public office.

"I have in all my experience at the state capital given the Mississippi coast every consideration. I have in the past had neighbors of the coast as my opponents but this time I am making this appeal to the citizens of this section to repay me for my efforts in their behalf. My fights have been for the seafood industry, seaway and other projects asked for under various administrations," said the speaker.

When asked his views on paving of the highway from Memphis to the Mississippi coast he said: "Mississippi has 375 miles of roadway over this stretch, 223 miles of which have been paved or are in active process of construction. Carrying out my promise of an address before the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce in May of last year, one of my main interests will be to see that this highway is paved. I am of the opinion that by January 1, 1936, the entire stretch will be completed."

From Biloxi Mr. Murphree went over to Seminary, Gov. Conner's home town and from there will speak to voters at Heidelberg, Jasper and Meridian.

M. & K. STORE HAS LATEST TYPE DISPLAY REFRIGERATION CASE

New Display 'Cold Box' Keeps Meats Better and Longer In Original Color

Messrs Morrow & Koch, enterprising proprietors of the M. & K. Grocery Store and Market, adjoining postoffice and justly proud of their new silent salesman refrigeration counter in their market department personally conducted by Mr. Richard Koch.

By means of latest process meats and other food are kept better and for a longer period and lose none of the natural appearance. For instance, meats remain fresh and natural cooking the same as when put. This is made possible by a chilled air that is washed to a state of purity and circulates through the display spaces, never for a moment becoming stagnant. Health authorities have given the new process their official O. K. and one need have no fear purchasing food from such a pure-like process of refrigeration.

Either Mr. Koch or Mr. Morrow will be glad to explain the outstanding improvement that has been added to their store.

CAMP STANISLAUS OPENED

Sunday, June 16th—24 Enrolled from Three States; Bro. Romauld, Head.

Last Sunday, June 16th, saw the opening of Camp Stanislaus upon the premises of St. Stanislaus College. This institution is eminently situated upon our Bay for such an enterprise and a goodly number of boys responded to the advertisements and have come to avail themselves of the choice facilities of our local school.

Most of the boys were brought over by their parents, either by train or car, and the college grounds were very active with observant parents and eager-eyed boys. The age limit set by Brother William, between eight and fifteen, cut down the number somewhat, but at present there are twenty-four boys from Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama who have entered the camp for the six-weeks period. New Orleans supplied the greatest number. Several more are expected to drop in within the course of the week.

The Camp Master is Bro. Romauld, ably assisted by Brother Vincent. A lively and interesting program for the day has been drawn up and followed with enthusiasm by the campers.

Along with the athletic events goes a well-balanced summer school which has the approval of the State Department of Education. Most of the work done is in the nature of review work for the removal of conditions. Some few, however, are following the more strenuous classes and embarking upon new subject matter. The faculty of the summer school is made up of members of the faculty during the year, supplemented by some of the visiting Brothers.

A jolly and contented spirit seems to pervade the campers and bids well to making it a very pleasant and profitable vacation for those who are attending the camp.

Following is the list of campers, their age, residence and subjects being taken:

John Baldwin, 11½ years, New Orleans, French I.

Both are lengthy and were presented too late for publication. Same, however, will appear in these columns next week. Other communications and articles are also omitted for same reason—handed in too late.

BAY ST. LOUIS LIBRARY RECEIVES GIFT FROM BAY ST. LOUIS COUNCIL

General News Item of Interest—Review and Comment On "The Gold Journey" Book

Two splendid gifts, a bookcase and a window bench, were given to the Bay St. Louis Public Library on Monday by the City Council and Masters Elzie Byrd and David McDonald of the Boy Scouts' local troop. The lumber used in making the handsome pieces was donated by the city. The skillful carpentering work was done by the young scouts and enameled a cobalt blue to match the other bookcases lining the library walls. They shade harmoniously into the deeper tones of the blue and gold cover of a comparatively recent volume on the well packed shelves.

"The Gold Journey," is by Grace Zaring Stone, author of "The Bitter Tea of General Yen," (the novel from which the moving picture of that name was taken.) The Heaven And Earth of Donna Elena and The Almond Tree, a choice of The Book of The Month Club sometime in 1931.

Mrs. Stone's prose is a thing for the ambitious student of fiction writing to turn to reverently when searching for contemporary masters of the written word in America. The tale in question is one of a trek to Quebec from Massachusetts of a group of English colonial settlers, captured and held for ransom by French and Indian marauders; the return of the survivors, after a gruelling interlude, to the orthodox exactness of their ordinary living. It is a book for sophisticates, for drama lovers, for investigators into the sources of the country's psyche and the stamp left by the Puritans.

BELL TEL. CO. TO GIVE FEATURE

In Bay St. Louis Telephone Directory—To Be Issued About July 25

With a view of ever improving their directory issues, to make them of more convenience, of service and of general information, the Bell Telephone Company announces a new business listing department for the Bay St. Louis directory, to be issued and distributed locally about July 25.

Messrs. J. J. Frisco and V. C. Regio, both actively connected with the Southern Bell Tel. & Tel. Company, have been visiting Bay St. Louis this week in the interest of a new department for the local directory, a classified business section, to be printed on yellow paper. In this wise a party seeking to telephone to some particular business all that will be necessary will be to consult the classified list of business firms.

Other cities have this feature in their directories. The Bell Company, ever alert to serve the best interest of its subscribers and the public in general, and with commendable enterprise, finds it possible to give the Bay St. Louis directory this feature. It is a foregone conclusion the telephone company enterprise will be appreciated.

FOREIGN-MADE

A bill in the House would require advertisements of foreign-made goods to state clearly the name of the country in which they were produced. The provision would apply to all forms of advertising, including radio broadcasting.

WANT WORLD TRADE

Economic nationalism as a means of recovery for the nation is receiving some hard blows from those who argue that prosperity will not return until we have a stabilized currency and lower tariffs. Unless this happens, many observers see outright inflation ahead.

SATURDAY, JUNE 29TH TAG DAY

For Benefit Bay St. Louis Public Library—Entertain Well Worthy of Support

Saturday of this week, June 29, has been designated as "tag day" benefit Bay St. Louis public library. The purpose of raising additional funds for the library is self-appealing to the general cause of culture, information and further self-improvement. Our city has no institution of more significance to the individual—man, woman, and child—that this means of the circulation and dissemination of good books and the enterprise is well worthy of support.

A year ago the first tag day for the Hancock County Free Library was held. The library was then an infant, and a rather feeble one, and the response to this first effort to accumulate funds was as correspondingly feeble. People were doubtful and withheld their monetary support until it would be demonstrated how this child would develop. It is now robust and rapidly growing, long past its toddling stage, and one that the people of Bay St. Louis should be very proud of.

Through Miss Louise Crawford's vision and untiring efforts, and the support of the Library Board, of which Mrs. Carl Marshall is president, the little nucleus of volumes has grown from a few hundred to eighteen hundred. The library service has reached into 23 communities, and has earned the commendation of the central office in Jackson. The pay shelf has many of the newest and best books, which can be rented for two cents for the first four days, the results going to the purchase of new books. To those who pledge fifty cents monthly, the privilege of reading these books is given without further charge for the length of time that they are available for the two cents a day.

The library has served so many people and filled so many needs that the Board feels assured of the wholehearted support of the entire community.

The Board Members, assisted by Misses Alice Vivian Evans, Marion Chapman, Ida Tudury, Mabel Garcia, Celeste Bird, Cora Griffith, Bessie Mitchell, Betty Boyer, Audrey Anderson, Katherine Heideman, Eleanor Jacobs, Estelle Pepperdene, will be in the downtown district soliciting your donations, and in Waveland, Mrs. S. D. Siler, assisted by Mrs. Maud Bourgeois, and Misses Marcelle Morreer, Marie Hilda Leonard, Amelda Chadwick and Carol Bignuet.

ADDITIONAL CITY ECHOES

—Miss Lois Estopinal the attractive and gifted young niece of Mr. and Mrs. Rene de Montluzin is spending a restive vacation at their home after a session of arduous study at M. S. College, in Holly Springs, Miss., where she ranks high in the course she is pursuing. She has an engaging personality, unusual mentality and is an ardent student. Her whole course has been a series of scholastic triumphs. Her brilliant graduation last year was one of the outstanding events of the Commencement. At the end of her visit here Miss Estopinal will spend the balance of her vacation with her uncle and aunt Dr. and Mrs. John T. Crebbin at the home in Shreveport, La. She will be accompanied by her cousin Miss Claire Combel of Mobile who will also spend some time at the Crebbin home.

—Voters in Bay St. Louis on August 6 will find, according to where they live, new and different place of voting. For instance poll booths located in Central School building will serve voters living in North Bay St. Louis, and the R. W. Webb School will serve voters living in South Bay St. Louis. The courthouse will serve voters of Central Bay St. Louis, with three complete and separate set of officials for the day. In this wise and arrangement voting will be better expedited and it will not be necessary to remain up all night to count full and final results.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Cooper former residents of Bay St. Louis, after a four-year residence in Porto Rico, passed through Bay St. Louis Tuesday evening, having previously landed from their ship at Mobile. They were met here by Mrs. Cooper's mother, Mrs. George H. Michel, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. H. Boyle. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper's two daughters met them in New Orleans. Mr. Cooper will be remembered engaged in the real estate business in Bay St. Louis, an associate of R. C. Engman some years ago. He returned to again reside in the States.

KING'S DAUGHTERS TO MEET

Monday Afternoon at Four-nier Residence, Waveland—Getting Ready For Drive

Regular monthly meeting of Bay Ct. Louis King's Daughters and Sons will be held at the residence of the president, Mrs. A. F. Fournier, Waveland, on Monday of next week at 3 o'clock instead of the regular meeting place generously loaned each and every month.

This meeting, it is planned, to be held outdoors and in addition to being the regular monthly get-together will also be a business session of unusual importance.

Preparatory to beginning actual construction of additions to the local hospital building, there will be a drive for more funds and more material. Already, much of the construction necessities are on the ground but additional lumber, etc., are needed.

The building is urgently necessary and no time is to be lost. With this urge in view it is planned to get busy at once. Suggestions will be welcomed. Further plans will be formulated and the task ahead will be entered into with zest.

Necessity of a hospital in Bay St. Louis has long ago been recognized. In fact, the present building has proven inadequate and at this particular meeting it is planned to allow no further delay to intervene.

Mrs. Fournier extends a personal invitation not only to members but to all ladies and gentlemen who might be interested in the blessed work of the King's Daughters. The time, Monday at 3 o'clock.

ADJOURNMENT

UNTIL very recently there was little talk of adjournment here, and it looked as if Congress would be in session all summer. During the past ten days or two weeks, however, work has been greatly speeded up, and there is now a possibility of adjourning by the middle of July.

SOCIAL SECURITY BILL

When the Social Security bill reached the Senate, it was passed with several important amendments. Among the amendments was one providing that the Federal Government shall continue its $15 share to the aged for a period of two years even in States that do not have an old age pension system and that, therefore, could not match the Federal funds. This provision, while it is limited to two years, is in line with the amendment that I tried unsuccessfully to have accepted by the House. It was my contention that the aged of the less wealthy States should not be denied their share in the Federal funds simply because the States in which they happened to live were too poor to match the funds contributed by the Federal Government. The bill is now in conference between the two houses.

SPANISH AMERICAN WAR PENSIONS

A bill restoring to Spanish American War veterans the pensions they were receiving previous to March 19, 1933, has passed the House and has been reported in the Senate. Ever since the passage of the so-called Economy Act, it has been contended that, since it has been so long and since such incomplete Army records were kept, the Spanish American War veterans did not have the same chance as World War veterans to prove service connection for their disabilities.

APPROPRIATION FOR PERFECTING SYRUP BLENDING PROCESS

For sometime I have been laboring to secure an appropriation of $10,000 for the study of syrup blending processes to obtain a uniform quality. The farmers of Mississippi and other Southern States have been greatly hampered in the marketing of their syrup because its quality varied from farmer to farmer and even from can to can. The aim of the proposed study is to perfect a process that will overcome this difficulty. With the cooperation of the two Senators such an appropriation has been secured, the Department of Agriculture having agreed to transfer from its regular appropriation sufficient funds to finance the study.

SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Star Patrol Entertains; Mrs. Pepperdene Gives Card Benefit for Scouts

The Star Patrol of Girl Scout Troop One entertained the other patrols of their troop and a group of Boy Scouts at a beach party on Wednesday, June 19. The guests gathered on the beach near the junction of North Beach Boulevard and Second street at about seven thirty. After playing nearly an hour they toasted marshmallows around the bon fire and were served rootbeer and cakes. After a very pleasant evening the party broke up at ten o'clock.

Mrs. K. W. Pepperdene gave a party at her home on Friday, June 21, for the benefit of the Girl Scout Troop. The proceeds, Captain Goldman announced, will be paid into the National Girl Scout Treasury as the National dues of this troop. Captain Goldman and the Scouts of Troop One wish to extend their thanks to Mrs. Pepperdene.

During the past five weeks, men interested in scouting have taken advantage of a great opportunity. With Clyde Surgi as instructor, a school for scouts has been conducted thru which much has been learned of scouting. Beginning May 24, a session was held each Friday night for four consecutive weeks. The school closed with an outing Wednesday, June 19.

Boy Scouts of Troop 208 will have their regular meeting this Friday night in the upper-story of the I. G. A. Store, loaned through the courtesy of Mr. J. R. Scharff since last December. This meeting will be followed by an outing and campfire.

Scoutmaster J. W. Pears, who has been away for the past month is expected to return soon. His troop awaits his return to continue regular activities.

A number of Scouts are planning to attend Camp Salinan, in Slidell, Louisiana, in July. This is the largest Boy Scout camp in the South and is known as the ideal camp for boys.

The Scouts of Troop 208, wish to express their appreciation to the management of the A. & G. Theater for the weekly free tickets received. They consider this a grand privilege, as well as a boost to the Scout movement.

AN APPRECIATION BY BOY SCOUTS

The Scouts wish to express their appreciation of the generosity of Miss Ames and Mrs. Gaspard, who are allowing both Boy and Girl

SAVE THE CONSTITUTION

IN the face of all the theorists who would like to subject the United States to fascism, communism, collectivism, and what-not, the Lone Star State seems to still believe that the Constitution, under whose guidance we grew from an unimportant pioneer nation to a world power within a century, is still good enough.

On June 8th, the Young Democrats of Texas went on record as being aggressively opposed to any change which would "destroy the Constitution." At the same time, the organization went on record as favoring abolition of child labor, state codes of ethics to cover working hours and wages and other reforms of a social character, which shows that the Young Democrats are not opposed to change which can be achieved within the limits of the Constitution. They simply realize that the kind of reform activity favored by many present-day officeholders would mean the end of State's rights, the rise of a virtual political autocracy, and the destruction of individual liberties.

On the same day, Democratic Governor Murray of Oklahoma, who "always has taken his coffee black and his democracy straight," said: "The United States will disintegrate unless the constitutional safeguards of liberty are preserved. . . . We are already going to Washington for everything. The trend toward centralization of government will lead ultimately, unless checked, to centralization of wealth and privilege and the establishment of only two classes of citizens—the very rich and the very poor."

The statements from the Young Democrats and from Governor Murray will be seconded by other states. This issue is not one of Americanism. Those who would destroy the Constitution and discredit our Supreme Court, would destroy all that the founders of the country fought and bled for, and left us as our most precious heritage—personal liberty unshackled by official tyranny.

Going to church may not be your habit, but it would be a good habit to have.

Reading a good book a week is a splendid way in which to learn something that your associates do not know.

REAL SOCIAL SECURITY

A REPORT from a representative medium-sized life insurance company says that the volume of regular paid business secured during May of this year was ten per cent greater than in any month for four and one-half years past.

In addition to the business increase, the company found many other favorable factors. The lowest lapse rates in its history are now being experienced. Policy loans are decreasing. Favorable mortality rates are continuing. And the amount of total insurance in force is showing steady gains.

Life insurance sales have held up well during times when business, employment and payrolls were tending to drop. That can mean only one thing—that the American people, having witnessed a decade that began in 1929, have a growing respect for the safety, permanence and soundness of life insurance from the standpoint of both protection and investment.

Every time a new policy is sold it means that another family is starting to achieve social security—and to achieve it through its own thrift and foresight. That kind of security is worth more than all the government "doles" ever proposed.

Bay St. Louis is justly very proud of its library. Its success, and that is already assured, depends largely on the patronage accorded and co-operation as well. It serves not only an admirable purpose in the cultural sphere of our city and adjacent territory but truly fills a "long felt want."

Bay St. Louis King's Daughters and Sons are engaged in a worthy endeavor of building additional accommodations to its local hospital. Like all worthy projects and things worth while, both time and money are required, to say nothing of the indefatigable work of parties who never lag and ever willing to put their shoulders to the wheel.

Bay St. Louis has possibly more organizations for varied and different community purposes than the average city of this size. Hence comment unnecessary. From its civic club, the Rotary, chamber of commerce, Red Cross, federal projects, religious, boys and girls scouts, down the long line of social and economic endeavor, it would be interesting and revealing as well if a complete list was chronicled.

Fred Sullens says the telegraph editor of a Denver newspaper complained to a country correspondent who omitted names in his stories. He wrote the man that if he neglected this essential detail in his next yarn he would be discharged. A few days later the editor got this dispatch: "Como, Col., June 18.—A severe storm passed over this section this afternoon and lightning struck a barbed-wire fence on the ranch of Henry Wilson, killing three cows—their names being Jessie, Bossie and Buttercup."

BLEEDING CANDIDATES

NOT only in Hancock county but from all parts of the State parties seeking office are "put on the spot" for all kinds of petty contributions, individual loans, admission tickets, etc., to the extent that a veritable hardship results to the candidate, who, in the majority, is composed of poor men. The candidate is a shining mark. He is taking advantage of on every side.

Poverty is no bar to office. Some of the best equipped, both native ability and education are well qualified to serve the public, but frequently lack the funds for an expensive campaign. It is for this reason many forego running for office. They cannot stand the gaff.

Recently an experienced newspaper man and highly developed advertising expert proposed The Echo put on a special edition wherein each and every candidate would get a special "write-up" at so much per line. He said the plan had worked in all other places and with such a well-circulated newspaper over the county like The Echo and a newspaper of a long and established reputation there would be no trouble in putting the plan over. No candidate could afford to be omitted from such an edition, he said, especially since a copy would be addressed to every voter in Hancock county, names taken from the poll books.

To this attractive money-making proposition The Echo replied in the negative. We could not and would not take advantage of the candidate who could not very well afford to come into such an edition. Because others were in he could not afford to be omitted. Hence the proposition was passed up.

Men who offer their services to their city, county or State do so in all sincerity and good grace. They wish to serve to their best ability. They are good and patriotic citizens. They are willing to go through the ordeal of a campaign, legitimately spend their money but by no means should they be held up or bled, as is only too often the case.

Men should procure favor on their merits, not on their ability to curry favor by their willingness to have to pay on every side when called to contribute. The candidate is put to a great disadvantage in more ways than one, and should not be taken advantage of.

THE ONLY COURSE

HOW long would businesses or individuals remain solvent if for every dollar they earned they spent two dollars?

It doesn't take a financial wizard to know they would soon be in the bankruptcy courts.

At the present time the Federal Government is spending two dollars for every dollar it receives in tax revenue.

It is no excuse to say that the Federal credit is still unimpaired, and that the currency is soundly backed with gold.

Neither a nation's currency, nor public or private credit can long remain "sound" under spendthrift practices. The easy way out for a country faced with debt obligations, is currency inflation—but the harsh lesson of history, modern and ancient, is that in every case inflation produces fear, panic, and often complete breakdown of a nation's social and economic structure.

We hear much these days about "controlled inflation"—what isn't heard is that no nation, no matter how wise its administrators, has ever been able to keep inflation within bounds once it was started.

The future financial security of the nation can be assured in but one way—by reducing costs of government to balance income. That may seem old-fashioned to modern financial experimentalists—but, all the pretty theories notwithstanding, it is the only safe and sound course for any nation, or individual, no matter how rich they are.

BACK TO THE FARM

TWO recent surveys cast new light on the current status of agriculture.

There has been a small but encouraging rise in value of American farms. Between March, 1934, and March, 1935, values rose in 30 states, declined in but five and remained unchanged in the other 13.

"Back to the Farm" is, becoming a reality. Where a few years ago, the farm population was being depleted by exodus to the cities, the trend has completely reversed and streams of people are going from urban to rural areas. A number of reasons lie behind this, such as industrial unemployment, the development of profitable specialty farming, and the desire of immigrants to leave the cities of the land.

In addition, the number of individual farms is on the increase. In New England alone, there were 162,000 producing farms on January 1, 1935, in contrast to 125,000 on April 1, 1930.

All of this speaks well for the future of agriculture and a self-supporting citizenship. It is natural that people should win their living from the land. And the great progress made in developing more scientific farming methods—largely due to the efforts of large agricultural cooperatives—is immeasurably improving the farmers' opportunity to till the soil at a profit. All in all, it is safe to say that the agricultural situation is basically better now than at any time since depression set in.

'T WAS EVER THUS

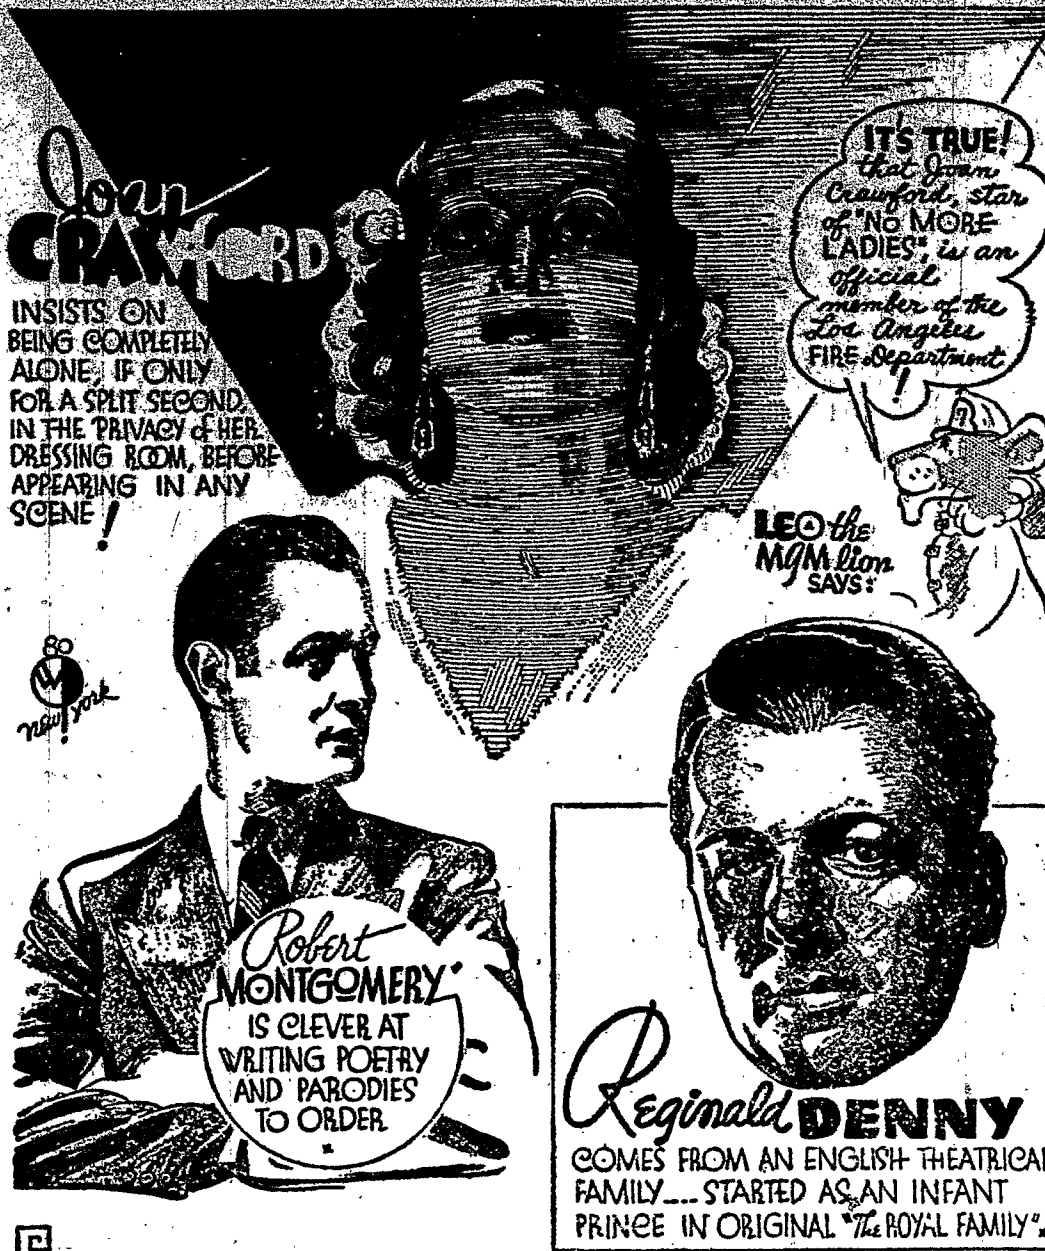

An Oregon housewife recently advertised for a maid to help with housework. She had few replies. An applicant refused twenty-five dollars a month, saying she was getting that "working" for the government on relief, doing nothing. . . .

A Portland Oregon man wanted to build a row boat. In addition to cost of material, the builder would have received $50 wages, but strikes prevented buying lumber. . . .

For weeks, "pickets" have been parading in front of Northwest sawmills preventing American citizens from working. . . .

PRAYER FOR CANDIDATES

(Jackson Daily News)

PAT V. James, super-statesman, Hot Coffee, writes to suggest that hereafter all political meetings be opened with prayer, concluding with this appeal for the candidates: "Dear God, please grant them gumption if you can't give them grace."

That's fine!

But wait a minute, Pat.

Prayer being the wonderful thing it is, why not pray for both gumption and grace?

Besides, if a candidate has even a little gumption, he will try to grab off some grace.

ACTION NEEDED

(Hattiesburg American)

SINCE President Roosevelt has made the proposition of imposing taxes on huge fortunes it is probable that the Congress will deal with the problem during the present session.

One of the five points which the President set down is vitally important and it, alone, makes the whole proposal imperative.

This point is the taxing of currently exempt securities of county, state and federal securities.

The freedom from taxation of this form of wealth always has seemed to be erroneous. Why should persons with large amounts of cash be permitted to salt the money down in governmental securities? Such business removes from the rolls many a taxpayer who is well able to help defray the cost of the government in whose own bonds his money is hidden away.

The key to the whole tax problem is contained in the re-classification of all property for purposes of taxation. Nothing should be free from taxes. Blanket coverage of all taxable property at full value at a lower rate would be fairer and more lucrative of revenue.

If tax dodgers could be caught and made to pay, the burden on the rest of the citizens would be lightened.

President Roosevelt has touched a sore place. He is the big doctor, the head surgeon of the administration. He has diagnosed one of the main ailments of the nation in his request for the new program of taxation.

The Congress should not let this matter be continued until the next session. It needs action and attention right now.

FOOLISH FLYING

GEORGE and Alfred de Monteverde, brothers, Portuguese aviators, crashed their Bellanca monoplane while trying to take off from Floyd Bennett Field, New York, for a flight to Italy.

It is stunts of that sort that give long distance flying bad repute. In the first place, the de Monteverde brothers, while licensed pilots, are not very good fliers. They know little about navigation over water wastes. The plane was overloaded with gasoline and had not been properly tested in preliminary flight.

New York-to-Rome flights have been made before, and will be quite common a few years hence, but they will be made by thoroughly competent pilots and with planes of greater reliability than that in which the de Monteverdes attempted their foolish venture.

RESTORATION OF FORT PIKE ON O. S. T. IS MATTER OF INTEREST

Historical Spot Landscaped and Conditioned—Opened To Visitors at All Times

As the first unit of a 9-mile Louisiana Purchase Memorial Park, extending along the Old Spanish Trail (U. S. No. 90) eastward from New Orleans, the restoration and beautification of Fort Pike, has been completed, it was announced this week by N. E. Simoneaux, secretary of the Louisiana Parks Commission at New Orleans.

Construction of Fort Pike was started in 1812 as one of the major defenses to be used by Andrew Jackson against the British in the Battle of New Orleans, but it wasn't completed in time.

The entire stretch of "island" from Fort McComb, at Chef Menteur, 22 miles out of New Orleans, to Fort Pike, at the Rigolets, 30 miles out, is being landscaped and fitted with appropriate picnic, bathing, fishing, hunting and boating concessions, to provide no profit, only revenue to maintain the park, the park commission announced. No admission to this historic fort will be charged. Restoration of Fort McComb was completed some time ago. The entire project will be completed by the end of the year. It is one of 12 similar state park projects, Mr. Simoneaux announced.

CAPT. WM. I. WHITE, OF WAVELAND, DIES AT COVINGTON, LA., HOME

Succumbs After Long Illness
—Father of Mrs. Cornelius Herlihy

Following a long siege of complicated maladies, Captain William I. White, beloved husband of Lottie Hock, aged 62 years, native of Bayou Sarah, La., died at Covington, La., Monday morning at 10:35 o'clock, to which place he had removed a year or more from his home in Nicholson avenue, Waveland, in quest of better climate conditions for his, ebbing health.

He was the foster father of Mrs. Cornelius K. Herlihy, resident of Waveland. In addition to his widow and daughter he is survived by a son, Dr. Burnley White, and three sisters, Mrs. W. P. Ware, Mrs. Ann Pierce, Houston, Texas, and Miss Nell White of Louisville, Ky.

Funeral took place Tuesday from the late residence in Gretna, La.; interment, St. Bartholomew cemetery of that place.

Captain White had been ailing for a long time, moving from Gretna some few years ago to Waveland in quest of better health. Last year he removed to Covington, La., where his condition seemingly improved but not permanently until his health gradually grew steadily worse until the end came.

He was well known and connected in New Orleans, for years actively associated with the piloting work on the river. He was a member of Crescent River Port Pilots' Association, the Associated Branch Pilots and Master Mates Association, Harbor, No. 18.

Widely known and a most estimable man, he was highly esteemed and the many friends and acquaintances will learn of his passing with more than ordinary regret. Captain White was well known in maritime circles.

HISTORIC SHRINES IN NEW ORLEANS TO BE RESTORED FOR FUTURE

FERA Funds Make Possible
Retention of Distinctive Charm to Vieux Carre

Two more restorations are being added to the growing list of historic shrines in the New Orleans old quarter being saved for another generation or so.

The old Bank of Louisiana, built 110 years ago by Latrobe, the architect who built the national capitol in Washington to replace the one burned by the British in 1812 and the famed Cathedral in Baltimore is the outstanding contribution of the FERA to retention of the distinctive charm of the Vieux Carre. Twenty thousand dollars has been spent to put this interesting old place in good shape. It now is New Orleans headquarters for the American Legion. It is located at the corner of Royal and Conti streets.

The other restoration is the privately owned town house of Etienne de Bore, popularly known as "The Antique Dome" at the same corner 403 Royal street. Bore was the discoverer of the vacuum process, presently used for granulating the juice of the sugar cane. The structure was built in 1818 and is generally credited to Latrobe. It was the site of the original Louisiana State Bank. Architecturally it is one of the most beautiful in the old quarter, especially the exquisite vaulted ceiling of the main banking room.

Bridegroom—What's the matter, dearest? You seem flustered.

Bride—Oh, it's nothing. This is the first time I have ever got married. I'll do better next time.

JOSEPH J. MARTIN OF BAY ST. LOUIS DIES AT VETERANS HOSPITAL

Near Biloxi Saturday Afternoon After Long Period Of Illness

After an illness extending over a period of nearly two years, Joseph J. Martin, of Bay St. Louis, passed away Saturday afternoon, June 22, 1935, at the hospital of the U. S. Veterans' Administration Home, near Biloxi. He was a native of New Orleans, aged 64 years, and a resident of Bay St. Louis for the past 16 years.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. O. T. Arnold and one grandson, Vincent Lagroue, residing in Dunbar avenue.

Mr. Martin was suddenly stricken during September, 1933, and on April 4 of this year was admitted to the Veteran Home and Hospital, where he remained ever since.

He was a private in Co. H. 2nd Regiment Louisiana Infantry, serving in the Spanish American War. He was of the Catholic faith, a devout member of the church, and funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father Keenan, pastor Church of the Nativity at Biloxi, funeral from the auditorium of the institution where he had been so well cared for, interment in Ross Memorial Cemetery. Many friends attended the last rites, from New Orleans, Mobile and Bay St. Louis.

The pall bearers consisted of Comrades of Spanish American War Veterans and services were held by the Wm. J. Cleveland No. 8 U. S. W. V. of which Camp he was a member. The family feel very grateful and wish to express many thanks for the beautiful floral offerings and the manner in which the funeral was conducted.

Mr. Martin was a man of sterling qualities and fine character and a citizen of worth. Moving to Bay St. Louis from New Orleans some years ago in order that he and his wife may reside near their daughter and her family, he had retired from business. However, for a while, a man of energy and used to the pursuit of a long life of business activity, he engaged in the tire business, associating himself with the garage and service business of Claud Monti. But later, because of a heart affection and on the advice of his physician he had to forego this business.

His passing away is widely regretted and his bereaved family have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. The Echo notes the passing away of this good man with more than ordinary regret.

Bids have been asked for a new Interior Department building expected to cost $11,110,000 and to be erected on property 587 feet long and 382 feet wide across Rawlins Park from the present Interior building. It will be seven stories high and contain 4,400 windows. Also a cafeteria seating 1,500 persons, a two-story conference hall to hold 900, and a library to care for four hundred thousand volumes.

CARD OF THANKS

I, L. O. PIERNAS wish to thank one and all for their heartfelt cooperation in helping to make the dance given for me on June 17, 1935, a success. And least but not less to Mr. A. G. Favre for his donation. And also to Rev. Holkin for his announcement. And most of all to Mr. C. G. Moreau for his advertisement.

WOULD BE WONDERFUL STATE TO LIVE IN

(Carrollton Conservative)

What a wonderful place Mississippi would be in which to live if the promises of the average candidate for public office could be brought into reality. Homestead exemptions, free school books, free hospitalization, lower rate of taxation, larger appropriations for colleges and common schools, unemployment insurance, payment of the soldier bonus, reduction of state and county taxes by at least 25 per cent—all these, and many more promises of little or no freely-wagging-tongues of our politicians.

Candidates for governor and the legislature are more guilty than the rest concerning rash promises. If the average voter will only think for a half minute he will realize that such promises are not worth a grain of salt.

Platforms continue to be splendid things to use in capturing the votes of the unwary but are mighty poor things to think about after the election.

Secretary of the treasury Morgenthau says that in ten months, ending May 31st, he purchased 283 million ounces of silver in addition to 112 million 850 thousand ounces under the nationalization order. During this period world production is estimated at 156 million ounces, of which 60 million ounces were necessary for industrial use.

Lt.-Governor Dennis Murphree

His platform is good from bottom to top, every plank in it. He believes we should have good roads within the bounds of reason. He believes we should have all good things but the best thing he believes in is pay as you go. In other words he is not in favor of burdening the people to death with taxation. We have had bad roads for a thousand years, why not be content to have good roads in a few years, instead of all at once. If he had but one plank in his platform, pay as you go, it alone should elect him Governor of Mississippi.

MURPHREE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

Personal and GeneralWEDDING AT N. O. OF INTEREST TO BAY ST. LOUIS

Eleanor Schupp, young daughter of Mr. and Otto E. Schupp, and Joseph York Feitel, were married at 8 p. m., Friday of last week in the Fourth Methodist church at Lee Circle, New Orleans. White gladioli, peonies, palms, and many candles decorated the church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a white organza made simply with knife pleatings around the long full skirt that ended in a train and with tiny tucks below the boat neck that stood up with a band of knife pleating.

The full sleeves were shirred at the shoulder and were caught at the wrists with wreaths of orange blossoms. The veil of tulle was made in three tiered pieces and was held by a cap of illusion and orange blossoms. She carried lilies of the valley and white orchids and a real lace handkerchief worn by brides in her family.

The bridesmaids—Mrs. James Schupp, matron of honor, Mary Virginia Taylor, Mary Elba Marshall and Gladys Huey—wore yellow and spring green organza gowns, yellow for the matron of honor and green for the bridesmaids. They were made with circular ruffles, trains and off-the-shoulder effects. The suggestion of summer loveliness was completed with sheaves of daisies that they carried.

Virginia Seal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Seal of Bay St. Louis, and Dorothy Robinson of Logtown and Birmingham, Ala., the little flower girls wore long, ruffled green organza gowns.

James Schupp was best man. The groomsmen were James Nelson, Lionel Baxter, Blanche Michel, Huber Johnson, Jack Schupp and Jeremy Glas.

Mr. Schupp attended Gulf Coast Military academy, Louisiana State University and Tulane, and his bride was graduated from Newcomb, where she was a member of the A. O. P. Sorority. They will live at 2216 Metairie Road after their honeymoon on the Gulf Coast.

The groom's mother is a sister of Mrs. Leo W. Seal and Mrs. Ella Maybin, of Bay St. Louis.
